

Average Price Contract - Corn

Producer Benefits

- It takes the emotion out of making the first commitment to sell grain and provides a benchmark
- Price your corn during a period that historically has beaten the harvest average.
- It allows you, the producer, time to focus on other aspects of your operation
- You have control over the delivery location
- Securing Basis Improvements
- Attaching call options and capturing carries in the market

How it Works

- Sign-up runs until 2/27/2026. Contact your local Grain Marketing Advisor
- Bushels are priced daily at the settlement price: Old crop bushels are priced from 3/2/2026-6/19/26 and New crop bushels from 3/2/2026 - 6/30/26.
- Once the period ends, the contract price is determined, and it turns into a Future First Contract
- Ability to roll the contract to a deferred month once the pricing period is complete

Terms and Conditions

Must be sold in 1,000-bushel increments. Fees: 5 cents per bushel on old crop - 8 cents per bushel new crop.
